DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

Claims 22, 23, 40, and 46 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Gowda, et al. The referenced patent discloses a method for analyzing body fluids in which a body fluid is accessed for analysis via an implantable means for accessing the fluid, said means comprising a port body comprising a tube arrangement extending into the interior of the body, wherein a test sensor is inserted into the interior of the body via said tube arrangement and wherein a body fluid is analyzed by the sensor at an intermediate site of said tube arrangement, the body fluid being aspirated to said intermediate site. Please refer to figures 3A to 5C.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 24-39, 41-45, and 47-55 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Gowda, et al., in view of Mishra, et al., and Parsalos, et al. Gowda, et al. discloses a port body comprising a tube arrangement extending into the interior of the body, wherein a test sensor is inserted into the interior of the body via said tube arrangement and wherein a body fluid is analyzed by the sensor at an intermediate site of said tube arrangement, the body fluid being aspirated to said intermediate site. Gowda, et al., does not disclose the use of a microdialysis probe and a second tube used for the introduction of a substance.

However, both enhancements are conventional in the art as evidenced by the teachings of Mishra, et al. and Parsalos, et al. Mishra, et al., shows in figure 2, a microdialysis probe having three separate catheters (22,28,30) use for the introduction and aspiration of substances to and from the body. Parsalos, et al., shows in figure 10 another microdialysis probe design for introduction into the body.

Based on the above observations, it would have been obvious to modify Gowda, et al., by substituting for a single catheter aspiration/infusion system thereof, a multicatheter system as disclosed by Mishra, et al. Additionally, as Patsalos, et al., suggests, the use of sensors such as dialysis probes in combination with introductory ports is well known in the art. Accordingly, a person of ordinary skill in the art would consider the use of the disclosed enhancements as obvious design alternatives.

Conclusion

Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP

§ 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
